Dedication

Dear Carol

"Salute the past and challenge the future." These words characterize Milwaukee's present Centurama celebration. They pay tribute to our city's first one hundred years, successfully completed, and they look forward to the Milwaukee of the future. We, the youth, hold that future in our hands. From a mere wilderness our forefathers built this city into the powerful heart of industry and labor that it is today. They did their job well. Now the responsibility has ben transferred to our shoulders. We are the ones who must look ahead and plan for the betterment of our community. It is fortunate that we students of King have had the benefits of a good educational foundation upon which to build. Rufus King, for whom our school was named, recognized our need for education. He was Milwaukee's first superintendent of schools, a staunch advocate of knowledge. Because of men like him, we have the fine educational system of which we boast today. We students have been offered many opportunities of learning how to become good citizens. Now we must put into practice what we have been taught. We must hold high the torch of Freedom, and lead our neighbors into another great century of progress. Truly, we must "Salute the past and challenge the future."

Sincerely
Dan Joyce

Dear Carol,
Good luck to a really swell kid. I'd like to see you in a senior next semester. I am fun on your summer vacation. Cause any vacation's happy ones!

STATEMENT BY MAYOR JOHN L. BOHN FOR RUFUS KING HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL

Anniversaries are milestones . . . they give us reason to pause and to take breath and to consider our journey — whence we have come and whither we are going. They are the meeting ground of memory and hope.

During 1946, Milwaukee will commemorate its centennial. You and I and the people of the State and Nation will participate in a series of events which will mark this anniversary. We will take inventory of past achievements, and make plans for the future.

A city is the heart of democracy. All over this country we have dozens of such great hearts beating in the form of cities; hearts manufacturing the blood of commerce and industry, and pumping it over a series of roads that are like veins and arteries extending from the city heart to the body of the land. Milwaukee is one of those great city hearts. And it is well that we pause during the centennial to consider our journey — whence we have come and whither we are going.

In dedicating this Annual to Milwaukee's centennial, we cannot overlook the great contributions made by Rufus King and other schools of Milwaukee to our city, county, state and nation. They have been, and shall continue to be, the bulwark of our civilization.

As Mayor of Milwaukee, I should like to invite you to participate in Milwaukee's centennial during 1946.

Rufus King was an American journalist and soldier. He was born in New York, January 26, 1814, and died there on the 13th of October in 1876.

He graduated from West Point in 1833. Three years later, he resigned from the army, and entered the engineering corps. He soon became assistant engineer of the New York and Erie Railroad.

He was the editor of the Albany "Advertiser" for four years.

Having then removed to Wisconsin in 1843, King became the editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel and Gazette during 1845-1861.

Rufus King was the first Superintendent of Schools in Milwaukee, serving without pay for three years.

During the Civil War King was brigadier general of the famous "Iron Brigade." He also served as U. S. minister to the Papal States at Rome.

Because of his excellent service to the well-being of humanity and the high ideals for which he stood, our school is proud to bear the honored name of Rufus King.

Milwaukee, Dec., 1846

In 1834, Dr. O. P. Wolcott, who was then engaged in the practice of medicine in the East, came to visit his brother, Dr. Erastus B. Wolcott in Milwaukee. Here are his words: "Such a miserable-looking place selected for a settlement I had never seen before. It was one unbroken series of sand-banks, frog-ponds, clay hills and river marshes, with the unpretentious habitations of probably five thousand people scattered around in a desultory sort of way. In three days I had gained the acquaintance of nearly every man in town, and I made it a point to abuse everybody I met for locating in such an ill-favored and unpromising stretch of waste. Such a spot, I informed them, was intended only for water-fowls and wild beasts, not for the dwellings of man."

Senior Band

A very large and busy activity at King is the senior band, which is under the able supervision and direction of Mr. Zahorik. The members of this activity entertain the student body at various programs. They are also a part of the annual spring concert.

The sections of the band meet in room 121 on different days: on Monday, horns and basses; Tuesdays, clarinets, saxophones and flutes; Wednesdays, special groups; and Thursdays, trumpets, trombones and baritones.

War Activities Board

Although the W. A. B. ended its splendid achievements in January, the work it has accomplished is still remembered.

The W. A. B. was successful in sponsoring the paper drives and during the summer and fall season netted over 16 tons of paper. In the eighth War Loan Drive, King made the largest amounts yet collected for stamps and bonds, $197,400. The Board has been active in many other drives among them the donation of 8,500 garments, purchase of 62 hospital units and Junior Red Cross subscriptions.

This fine work of our W. A. B. has not gone unrewarded. For its excellent record, King has received the Iwo Jima plaque, treasury certificate, decals for equipment purchased and the original painting of the War Bond Poster by Ernest Fiene.

The W. A. B. has closed its doors on a successful venture well-carried out. Miss Schott was its sponsor.

Student Activity Board

The governing body, that provides a place where students may voice opinions through their elected representatives, is the S. A. B.

The Board meets and discusses the student's difficulties in a democratic manner. Its main objective is to eliminate these difficulties, and by so doing makes the school a finer and more agreeable place in which to work. The council takes an active interest in the social affairs of King and has met with success in the programs presented, both at noon and evening.

The Board is able to function properly only through the earnest and sincere effort and the cooperation of the entire school. Miss LaBine is the advisor.

Auditorium Activity Council

Due to the overflow of pupils in the cafeteria during lunch hours, and the lack of sufficient tables and space to accommodate this overflow a new council was created to plan programs for noon hour recreation. This council is called the Auditorium Activity Council.

The first meeting took place February 25. The following goals were set.

1. To handle noon activities for both lunch periods every day.
2. To produce programs in accordance with the students' preference.
3. To improve auditorium conduct.
4. To plan future programs for the eighth hour.

The council meets every Tuesday at 8:15 With Miss Murphy as the sponsor.

Some of these services are: collecting all payments of money on King's Page, King's Crown, graduation fees, music cards, gym towel cards, and bicycle court fees. Beside these the bookstore sells second hand books, saving bonds and stamps, and all tickets for programs and activities put on at King. The bookstore also takes care of lost and found articles, making out tax-reports, and selling novelties.

Art Construction

Under the supervision of Miss Layman, the art construction activity meets on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday eighth hour. The students construct and paint scenery for our plays and prom decorations.

Make Up

They begin with the fundamentals of street make up and go on to dry and grease make up. They also make up characters from pictures. The senior group, makes up characters of the play according to their characteristics.

Costumes

The costume activity meets Wednesdays eighth hour in room 205. It consists of eleven members who are under the direction of Miss Heise. They fit and make the necessary costumes for the play. When there is nothing else to do they sew utility bags for the Red Cross.

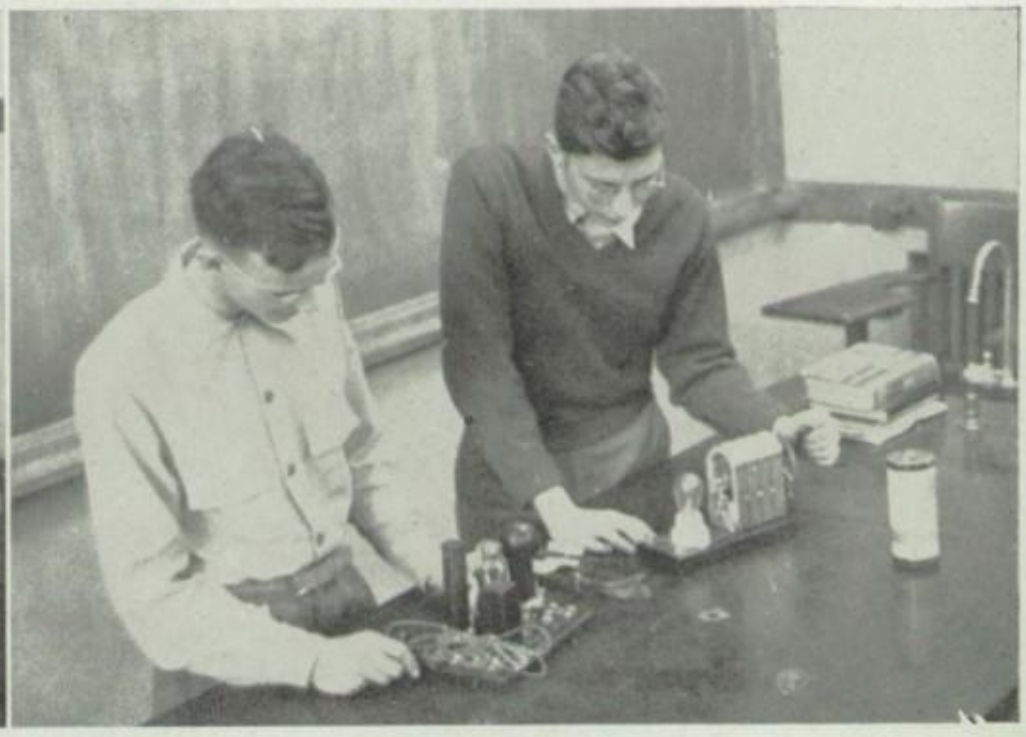
Students who work on the paper are given a service credit and learn the background of journalism. They meet every seventh hour in 414 under the direction of Miss Gaunt and Mr. Hunter.

Auto Drivers

The Auto Drivers activity is divided into four individual groups, meeting Tuesday and Thursday, eighth hour and after school. Mr. Laun is the instructor. The purpose of this course is to prepare the members for their driver's permit. They are taught the fundamentals of the car itself and the rules of the road. They are taught to drive safely and economically. Rufus King is the first high school in Milwaukee to offer this essential course.

Science Club

The Science Club, which has seventeen very interested members, meet on Tuesday, after school. Students gave reports on projects they had made. They went on hikes and did some dissecting on frogs, snakes, and mice. They did a lot of work on mice, and gardening work in our green house.



Radio and Radar

The object of this activity, Radio and Radar, is to set up an amateur radio station. A transmitter from the physics department is being repaired and they hope that by the time school starts in fall the amateur radio station will be in operation. The school has a license for equipment. This activity meets after school on Thursdays in 325A under the direction of Mr. Wing. There is also a possibility of getting electronic equipment from the war department which would help this activity a great deal, since at the present time there is a shortage of equipment.

The objective of this new activity is to better their knowledge in Spanish and undertake work which cannot be accomplished in class.

The Latin Club

The Latin Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Gardner, meets every fourth Wednesday after school. This is the first semester that there has been any type of club for the benefit of the Latin students. All Latin students who are interested in learning about the life of the ancient Romans are eligible to join. In their program of learning about the Roman people they have had a lecture from Dr. New, who had traveled in Italy. Mr. Kaczmarek also has told them of his experiences while serving with the Red Cross in Italy.

Round Table

The Round Table meets as a club for the enjoyment of students and not as an activity for school service.

The students who have a high scholastic average and who are mainly interested in general discussions and debates are the students who participate in this club.

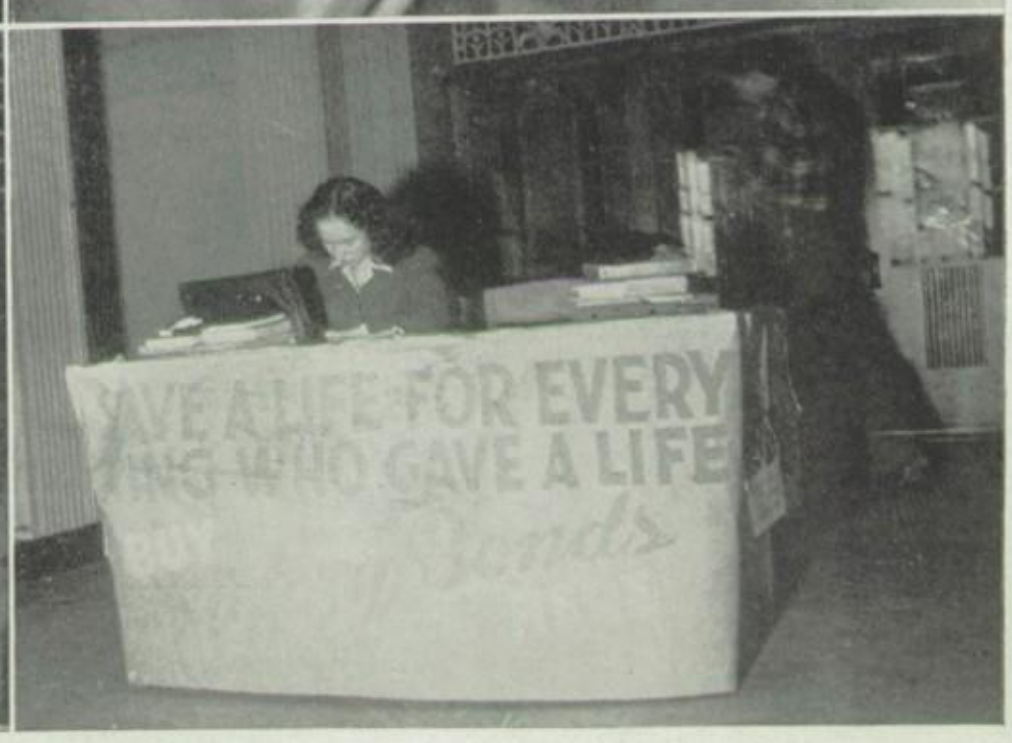
King's Queens

King's Queens, under the sponsorship of Miss Grossman and Miss Schwanberg, meets every Wednesday night after school. It was organized for the girls of the school. They have parties, picnics, and hikes for the members of the club and their friends. This past year the girls have performed school service by holding parties for the freshies to become acquainted with each other, and at Christmas the group collected oranges and Christmas cards which they distributed to the veterans at Wood, Wisconsin. They also made Christmas trees which they placed in the various hospital wards.

Cadets and Usher Service



The Cadets and Ushers meet on Wednesday morning in the auditorium under the direction of Mr. Fricker.

The Cadet group consists of about 125 members and the duties of cadets vary. There are library, study hall, gym, and hall cadets. The hall cadets, who are on duty the entire day, check lockers and hall passes, and keep the traffic flowing properly. The library cadets assist Miss Marcher in the library and in 325a.

The usher group consists of about 25 students. Their job is to assist during evening programs here at King, to greet the visitors and to show them to their seats.

A service credit is awarded to each member of these groups.

Household Arts

The object of Household Arts is to adjust costumes and properties. The group takes care of the dramatic clothing, and helps the actors into their costumes. The advisor of this activity is Miss Heise and it met last semester in 205 every Wednesday during the eighth hour.

Athletic Equipment

Under the able leadership of Mr. Laun, a group of boys met during the eighth hour and after school to take care of all sports equipment (uniforms, shoes, towels, etc.). Some of the boys become managers, and for this receive their "manager letters." The boys are responsible for seeing that the equipment is returned in good shape.

The Story of the Play

Clarence, a returned serviceman, is hired to care for Mr. Wheeler's two teen-aged children, Cora, who falls in love too easily and Bobby, who dislikes school.

Clarence loves Miss Pinney, the governess, although he does not express it, while Mrs. Wheeler believes Miss Pinney to love her husband. This is cause of the disagreements that take place during the remainder of the play.

In the end we find everyone happy. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are reunited, Miss Pinney and Clarence are to get married, and Bobby and Cora are sent back to school.

History of Milwaukee

In 1673 Father Marquette and Louis Joliet, returning to the Mission of St. Francis Xavier at De Pere from their trip down the Mississippi, skirted the West Shore of Lake Michigan in their canoes. Milwaukee Bay is distinctly marked on the map attributed to Marquette which was discovered in a convent in Montreal and which is now in the Jesuit College in that city. La Salle and his party probably stopped here on their way south in 1679, and the name first appears as "Millioke" in the Jesuit Relations of that year. This and the numerous other variants were attempts to transliterate the Indian name (meaning "good lands") of the village which the white men found here. The first Englishman known to have visited the spot was the adventurous trader, Alexander Henry, in 1760. There is a record of a French fur-trading post in 1763.

In 1795 Jacques Vieau established a permanent post for the North-Western Fur Company, which he seems to have kept until it was superseded in 1820 by one belonging to Astor's American Fur Company. Vieau built a dwelling and a warehouse and engaged in extensive trading operations. In 1818 there arrived a young Frenchman, Laurent Solomon Juneau (1793-1856), who married one of Vieau's daughters and eventually bought out his business. The settlement was on the direct line of travel from Fort Dearborn (Chicago) and Green Bay, and as soon as the Indian titles were extinguished by the treaties of 1831 and 1833 with the Menominees, colonists began to come to the neighborhood. In 1833 Morgan L. Martin (1805-1887), of Green Bay, explored the harbor, made a map of the place, and entered into an agreement with Juneau and Michael Dousman for its development. A sawmill was built in 1834. The east side was plotted in the summer of 1835, and the west side a little later by Byron Kilbourn. The rival settlements, officially Milwaukee East Side and Milwaukee West Side, were popularly known as Juneautown and Kilbourntown. A third, called Walker's Point, was established on the south side by George H. Walker. The east side and west side towns had bitter quarrels, especially over the building of bridges, for their streets had been surveyed independently and did not come out at the same points on the river. They were separately incorporated as townships of Milwaukee County in 1837 but in 1839 united as wards of the same village, each keeping complete financial and administrative autonomy of its own affairs. Walker's Point was annexed as a third ward in 1845, and in 1846 the three were incorporated as the City of Milwaukee, of which Solomon Juneau was elected the first mayor.

The first vessel anchored in Milwaukee Bay in 1779. A Chicago packet entered the river in 1823. The first newspaper, the Milwaukee Advertiser, began publication on July 14, 1836, and a public school was opened in that year. In 1839 George Smith and Alexander Mitchell established the Fire and Marine Insurance Bank, which for 40 years was one of the strongest banking houses west of the Alleghenies; its notes passed at par through panics under which even government issues depreciated, and it financed the "Milwaukee" and other western railways. The first brewery was built in 1840 by Owens and Pawlett. Connection was established with Chicago by telegraph in 1849; by railway in 1856. About 1840 began a stream of immigration from Germany, which was accelerated by the revolutionary movements of 1848 and continued for half a century.

Cross Country Team

At the opening of the season the hopes were mighty slim for a championship but coach Ruenzel produced a team with plenty of fight and spirit which won their share of meets. Opening the season with a dual meet against South proved fatal for the varsity as they were beat, but the "B" team nipped South's "B" 's for their first victory. Meeting Whitefish Bay proved profitable for King as it scored a double victory with both "A" and "B" teams winning. The third meet against Lincoln was a memorable one. It was run in Juneau Park along the sea wall. A terrific wind lashed the lake and a fine rain dropped during the entire race. Waves dampened the boys continually hampering their running. Under these abnormal conditions Lincoln won. East was King's next rival in a double dual meet. The varsity eked out a victory while the "B" team tied. The next meet, with Bay View, was the one most prized by the General Harriers. The south side school very highly favored and always a strong contender was upset by King. The "B" team did not do so well in this meet as they were defeated. The "B" squad then finished their season with a meet with East which they lost. Having finished their dual meets the varsity harriers entered into a series of tough runs. First came the North sectional meet involving King, East, Washington, and Lincoln. This meet was won by King. Following this meet came a triangular with Pulaski and Juneau which was also won by King. Then came the all important City meet, South was victorious with King ending up in the fourth spot. The State meet was the last meet of the year, this being won by Bay View with King ending up in the fifth position. The season ended quite successfully with good prospects for next year.

Varsity Football

Kings varsity grid squad, under the mentorship of Coaches Wolf and Hanks, started its training at the opening of school in September. The prospects for a great season were slim due to lack of returning material in some key positions. The boys worked hard for the opener with Marquette which the Kingmen won. The following week saw the arrival of untimely rains and the cancellation of the Custer game. The lone preliminary game saw the Generals preparing for the conference opener with highly favored North Division. Inexperience can be credited with the defeat in the opener. King's hopes were again dashed the following week as the King boys lost to a tricky Lincoln eleven. The third game saw a lot of determination in the General team. This paid off in the first victory, over East. Not intending to stop at one win the Generals took the field the following week against West for the King Homecoming. The King team was again victorious. The Generals now hitting the scoring pace at a rapid rate continued by spoiling Tech's homecoming for its third victory. The last rival to be met by King was South Division, and the Cardinals proved quite formidable, being favored over the King team by two touchdowns. This meant nothing as the Generals turned the tables and defeated the South siders by three markers. The season thus closed quite successfully with King finishing in fourth position behind the three first place teams.

Football B Squad

Last fall the faculty and student body welcomed back a former teacher and reliable coach. The supervision of the B Squad was given to Coach Myhre. Winning games is not primarily important. Learning teamwork and gaining actual game experience is the principal purpose of this team. After players qualify they are advanced to the varsity.

Lincoln High School was the first test of our potential power, and King defeated them handily. The boys scrimmaged the varsity once or twice weekly, and proved themselves worthy foes. Several linemen and a host of backfield men proved their ability and were advanced to the varsity early in the season. This weakened the B Team considerably; much time was spent replacing the positions.

To sum up the season the B Team was quite successful, not in games won, but in giving the varsity the needed competition thru frequent varsity contests. The results of the season:

Lincoln 0	King 13
Washington 14	King 0
North 14	King 7

Freshman-Sophomore Football

Candidates for the squad turned out in hordes this fall, and under the watchful eyes of Coaches Bubeck and Jankowski were picked for the squad.

"Then started that old song of fundamentals, they yelled fundamentals at us until they were hoarse. After a week of this the coaches got together and picked eleven boys they thought were the best. We got our plays and started drilling, drilling, and some more drilling until we saw the plays in our sleep."

As a result, King tied South for the championship of the freshman-sophomore league of 1945.

Varsity Basketball

King's varsity basketball team went through a season marred by forfeitures and disputed games in the conference, and lighted by very few bright spots. Their first semester of play was beset with defeats and bad breaks and it wasn't until the second round of play that the situation brightened.

The team was built with only two lettermen, Gene Schuelke and Ken Liebherr, and its early season defeats can be attributed to extreme inexperience. As the season progressed, however, the promising material was developed into a fairly good ball club under the watchful eye of Coach Polomis. The boys climaxed the season of five wins and five losses by trouncing North Division, 44-35. North went on to the championship playoffs so the boys could be rightly proud of this win.

Gene Schuelke was the mainstay of the squad, scoring most of the points, which gave him the city scoring title, and a berth on the all-city squad.

Prospects for next year's team are very promising. Those cagers who will be back next season include Jerry Dahl, Dick Goelzer, Dick Schulz, Doug Gostchock, Ron Shermacher, Ray Remmel, and a host of younger boys, which will all add up to a well balanced squad for next season.

I always have to glamorize the girls' sports pages. Here's to next semester classes. Hoping we have just fun like we did in Latin. Love, Shirley Carpenter's

Girls' Sports

Our girls had quite a variety of sport activities in which to participate during the past year. These activities were offered in fall: archery on Monday under the direction of Miss Altenhofen; badminton on Monday and Wednesday under Mrs. Garrity; on Tuesday and Thursday Mrs. Foti and Miss Mott conducted their cadet class; also on Tuesday and Thursday Mrs. Garrity directed the girls' hockey and soccer teams. Swimming classes were held on Tuesday and Thursday. The hockey team participated in an all-high-school "Hockey Playday," which is sponsored every fall by the Milwaukee Field Hockey Club, at Milwaukee Downer Seminary.

In winter our girls had three opportunities: The cadet classes were continued on Tuesday and Thursday. Basketball was offered to the seniors on Monday, the freshies on Tuesday, and to the sophomores and juniors on Wednesday. On Tuesday mornings Miss Mott had her tumbling class, and on Thursday morning Miss Altenhofen conducted her apparatus class. On Monday and Wednesday, during the eighth hour, the girls had their chance to play volley ball. There were interclass playoffs between all the volley ball classes. The finals were held between teams from the second and seventh hour classes.

In spring, on Monday, archery and tennis for beginners were given under the direction of Miss Altenhofen, and Miss Mott, and on Wednesday for the advanced players. On Tuesdays and Thursdays Miss Mantsch held her softball class.

Fifty Years Ago

Milwaukee's principal industrial production includes metal products; motor vehicle bodies, parts and accessories; machinery; tractors; food products; meat packing; leather and leather products; malt liquors; electrical machinery and apparatus; printing and publishing; chemicals, paints and varnishes; and textile mill products.

Milwaukee normally leads the world in the manufacture of silk hosiery, automobile frames, heavy pumping machinery, large gas engines, heavy lubricating equipment, power shovels, dredges, sawmill and cement machinery, electrical control apparatus, rock crushers and wheelbarrows, hydro-electric units and light woodworking machinery.

Prior to the war, the Milwaukee industrial area employed more persons in the manufacture of automobiles and automobile parts than any other city in the United States with the single exception of Detroit. It is the largest center for veal packing in the nation. It consumes more steel than any other industrial area in the country.

Dear Carol,

Remember all those times we had and will have. We have a lot more to do this summer so lets get busy. Should I ask Joe or Windy to the beach party. Where should we have it. Borrow me some of your Felt Naptha (Ha). all those smelly men at work. If we get dates out of them my dad can't know. & you have to see my sisters ring so come over. Kenny really likes you so don't treat him mean. They talk at least clean. Maybe he'll learn how to dance by the end of summer. Maybe I'll see that fag from Friday night. He and all of them are so darling. I better stop now or I burn. Frank Gross
